

While walking through the park at night,
The Prince of Cloves learned something new:
That thing about banana peels
Being slippery was true!

